

What if your only job was to have a great life?

Power Tools for LIVING – Washington, D.C.

This workshop will introduce you to the growing and dynamic world of coaching and provide you with powerful tools to apply to the projects in your life allowing you to achieve results at a level beyond what you currently believe is possible.

Coaching is powerful:

- It changes the game and how we play it.
- Coaching challenges us to be our best and eliminates the excuses and circumstances that get in our way.

Come to this workshop to experience coaching at its highest level. In a few hours, you will feel the impact:

- A new view of your life and what is between you and your highest level of living.
- Clarity and expansion of your Life Purpose.
- Shift the possibility of your life and create a real path to get there, all in one afternoon.

This workshop is also ideal for anyone considering a career in coaching. All of the coaches at this event were trained by Accomplishment Coaching, the finest Coaches' Training Program in the world. Get a chance to experience the results of that training in person and discover the impact it can have on your own life. This is your chance to take coaching for a test drive and create your own real RESULTS. If you register for the Coaches' Training Program, the money you pay for the workshop will be applied to your tuition.

ALSO NOT TO BE MISSED: During select weekends, take advantage of another unique opportunity from 10am to 12:30pm before the workshop to observe the current Coaches' Training Program in progress, free of charge. During this event, members of the public are invited into the training room to observe one morning session of the year-long training program. This is a great chance to see if hiring a coach, or a career in coaching, might be a fit for you.

There are limited slots available and we highly recommend registering in advance by visiting www.AccomplishmentCoaching.com. The cost of the workshop is $100.
